Jim,

Pursuant to our earlier discussions, EarthWater email has been compromised. Please do not use earthwater email addresses.

Additionally, refrain from including Buddy in emails regarding selling, advising or promoting securities.

I will coordinate with Jim Shields.

Regards,
Beth DeGroot

Jim, I am addressing this email to you and copying Tony Altavilla, Beth DeGroot and Buddy Barnes. I would have also copied Don Fry (sp?) but don't have his email address. Please forward a copy of this email to him.

I have a consulting agreement with Earthwater (EW) in which I serve as the Executive Strategic Advisor to the company. In this capacity I help generate sales for the company and also make strategic introductions to assist the company in raising capital.

I introduced Tony Altavilla to CJ and I believe Buddy has also spoken with Tony as well. I have over a 30 year friendship and business relationship with Tony who resides in Indiana. Most recently Tony introduced CJ to the Maxim Group, a New York based investment banking company. Within the past few weeks CJ met with Maxim at their NY offices. Following two days of meetings, Maxim entered into an agreement with EW to initiate an IPO. When CJ was subsequently arrested, Maxim immediately canceled their agreement with EW. Tony could opine whether he believes Maxim could still possibly do business with EW.

Separately, Tony has a relationship with Florida based Andrew Weeraratne. CJ, and I believe Buddy, have had conversations with Andrew. Following CJ's recent resignation as CEO of EW and the company's immediate need to raise working capital, Andrew had prepared the email below outlining his strategy to effect an IPO for Earthwater within a matter of weeks.

At this point I will turn this discussion over to Tony who can elaborate on possibilities with Andrew, Maxim, and possibly others. Tony is very effective in this area and is a resource that EW should immediately be in contact with, in my opinion. Tony's email address is shown above and his phone numbers are:

work: 317-569-1617

Tony, please elaborate on this email. As you know, Jim Shields is the company's corporate counsel. Beth is now the acting president and Buddy is the CFO. Jim's email address is also shown above and his phone number is 972-788-2040.

I can vouch for Tony's effectiveness and urge the company to engage with Tony in addition to others the company may be in discussions with.

Most sincerely,

Jim

P.S. Although it is only 4am in Seattle, I am available if needed.

Tony, Acqusalut Inc. has filed a Reg A offering with the SEC on May 6th and waiting for the response. They normally respond within 30 days. When they respond they may come up with a few questions and then I have to answer them and then on they respond in 10 days. So we may get it all approved by end of June. Once it is approved we can begin to raise $10 million from the public.

So at that time we have two choices. First we buy EW products at wholesale prices and sell on the Kiosk shops that Acqusalut will create at retail prices. Or we can acquire EW by giving all EW shareholders shares of Acqusalut and also to change the name of Acqusalut to EW. These shares we will give will be trading shares so we can apply for a stock symbol and get on the OTC QB so EW shareholders can begin to sell shares and you can help create a market just like you created for AREC stock. Then after we raise funds we can get on the NASDAQ. Or even bring in an investment bankers and do another offering to raise more funds.

Currently I have 11 million Class B shares with 10 votes for each share at Acqusalut and that gives me 110 million votes giving me absolute control. As long as I maintain that, I can raise money. We can give all the shareholders of EW, Class A shares which has one vote for each share. Or I am willing to turn my Class B shares to Class A (as I did when merging with AREC) and give someone else the chance to run the company, but in that case I cannot raise funds but the new majority owner has to do that. Either way is fine with me.

Best regards

Andrew
